ENGAGING THE INDIAN DIASPORA

Rup Narayan Das

The increasing attention and focus to study the problems and potential of the expatriate population by the home countries can be attributed to a number of factors, the most important being the irreversible and unstoppable process of globalization, breaking the physical and emotional barriers of nation states. Now the world is witnessing not only the free movement of goods and services, but also the movement of people and ideas. Although migration is not entirely a new phenomenon, integration of world economy has also brought to the fore the socio, economic and political issues having a bearing on migration and reverse migration. While it is essential to address these issues carefully, it is equally important to harness the prowess and potential of the expatriate population as a strategic asset in the economic, social and educational development of the home country.

Yet another important aspect of the potential pertains to their increasing importance as what is called ‘non-state actors’ and their role and clout in influencing state and Government policies of the countries of their adoption. As diasporas are mainly non-state actors, they have to be viewed not only as minorities in the host countries, but also as important entities vis-à-vis their home countries. A telling illustration of this is the impact and influence of the Indian community in the USA in facilitating the passage of the Indo-US nuclear deal even if the impact is miniscule.

Policy and Attitude of India

It is worthwhile to recall that it was Mahatma Gandhi, who espoused the cause of Indian diaspora in an organized manner for the first time. Gandhi started his experiment of Satyagraha in South Africa to highlight the injustice and unfair treatment meted out to the migrant Indians there. He fought for their rights, dignity and self-esteem. Gandhi was concerned not only with the problems of the South African Indians but with the lot of the Indians all over the world. During his prolonged sojourn in South Africa, he made two trips back to India during which he wrote the ‘Green Pamphlet’ and addressed the Indian National Congress, the Chamber of Commerce and other organisations to rally support for their Indian countrymen, especially in South Africa. Gandhi’s persistent campaign had sensitized the travails of the Indian Community to the Colonial authorities in India and the United Kingdom. Recognizing the contributions of the Indian diaspora Pravasi Bharatiya Divas is declared on 9 January, the date on which Mahatma Gandhi returned to India from South Africa in 1915. Now the Pravasi Bharatiya Divas is celebrated once in every two years.

The post-Independent era in India witnessed the exodus of qualified professionals to foreign countries, particularly the USA, Canada and the United Kingdom, Australia etc. resulting, in the phenomenon called the ‘brain drain’ and there was no major initiative towards the diaspora whether Persons of Indian Origin (PIOs) or Non-Resident Indians (NRIs). However, with the economic reforms and liberalization which India initiated during 1990’s, the Government also started a proactive policy towards expatriate population abroad, targeting the Non-Resident Indians with the goal to involve and assist them in the process.

TO ACCOMPLISH YOUR CAREER GOAL
YOU NEED CLEAR VISION ON ONE

Vijay Prakash Srivastava

In life some choices are made for us and some choices are made by us. For example we can’t decide which family will we take birth in or whether we would be born in a village or city. In the early age most of the decisions regarding our schooling etc. are taken by our parents or guardians. As we grow up we have our own thoughts, ideas and perceptions which of course are influenced by our surroundings, exposure and experiences. We start thinking of our short, medium and long term future. One thing which concerns us most is our career. Not only we, our parents, family members and other well-wishers also are concerned about our studies and career.

It is said that change is the law of nature, so if things are changing we shouldn’t be surprised. But the kind of changes that are happening and the pace at which the changes are taking place is indeed unprecedented. The changes have come with fair share of opportunities and challenges. The age we’re living in is full of opportunities. Which opportunities we look at and how we navigate to those opportunities is for us to decide. There may be problems and hardships but what we achieve shall be determined by our honestly to the purpose and how hard we work for this purpose.

All of us want a ‘good’ career. This good is somewhat subjective as everyone may have a different preference. But it’s important to decide what is good for us and then work to achieve this goal. The world of careers has changed and expanded in a big way. Clarity about our career goal shall always help us to plan and strategize better. You might have come across the famous quote of Lewis Carroll – “if you don’t know where you are going, you won’t get there”. The idea here is that we should know our destination and then take the path that will take us to this destination.

After choosing a career goal one can make focused and planned preparation. Questions are often raised as to what is the right time or stage to decide a career goal. There is no fixed answer to that. However, it would be too late to do it. We hear many students in class 6

A new variant of Corona has appeared in the world. Our experience of the last two years is that our own effort as a country is important to defeat this global pandemic. Our scientists are continuously studying this new Omicron variant. We get new data every day, their suggestions are being worked upon. We believe that self-awareness, self-discipline is in itself the country's strength in fighting against this variant of Corona. It is this very collective strength of ours that will defeat Corona; with this very sense of responsibility we have to enter into 2022.

Group Captain Varun Singh of the Indian Air Force wrote a letter to the principal of his school. He told his daughter in Dharamshala that Group Captain Varun Singh Ji did not boast of his valor, instead he referred to his own mistakes. He talked about how he converted his shortcomings into abilities. At one place in this letter, he wrote, "It is ok to be mediocre. No one will excel at school and not every student will score in the 90s. If you do, it is an amazing achievement and must be applauded. However, you don't think that you are meant to be mediocre. You may be mediocre in school but it does not mean that you cannot do great things in life. The measure of things to come in life. Find your calling - it could be art, music, gardening, cooking, or whatever. Whatever you work towards, be dedicated, do your best. Never say no to challenges, always put-in more efforts." He has inspired the whole country. Even though his letter talks only to his daughter, it sends a message to our entire society.

This year also I am planning to address the students before the exams. The registration for this program is also going to start 28th December 2021 onwards on MyGov.in and Mann Ki Baat 2022. For this online competition will also be opened for students, teachers, and parents of class 9 to 12. I would like you all to take part in this competition. Don’t let my thoughts of how you could think would brainwash in many aspects related to examinations, career, success and student life.

too. Its purpose is that people deposit garbage and take cash according to the amount of garbage deposited from trees and organic waste. The department is also working to make stationery from waste paper.

- Like every time, after a month, we will meet again, but, in 2022. Every new beginning also gives an opportunity to recognize your potential. We have to learn so much, innovate anew; achieve new goals, therefore, we will have to perform better without waiting even a moment. We have to take the country to new heights of development, so we have to make full use of every resource of ours. In a way, this is also the mantra of Atma Nirbhar Bharat that is self-reliant India, because without developing our resources properly, we will not let them go waste, only then will we recognize the power of local, only then will the country be self-reliant. So, let us reiterate our resolve to think big, dream big, and work hard to make them come true.

Youth: The Nation-builders of Today

Every year since 1985, the Government of India observes 12th January, the birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda as National Youth Day. To quote from the Government of India’s communication, “the day is felt that the philosophy of Swamiji and the ideals for which he lived and worked could be a great source of inspiration for the Indian Youths.”

Swami Vivekananda’s message was simple yet powerful. He conveyed his ideas directly to the people, especially to the youth. His message broke through the shackles of caste and creed and spoke of a language of universal brotherhood. What he said captured the great importance of his ideas and ideals among the youth in our country today. He personified the eternal energy of the youth and their restless quest for truth.

India is one of the youngest countries and it is India’s youth who are the biggest ambassadors of the country’s talent and potential. Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, has encouraged the youth of the nation to follow Swami Vivekananda’s leadership advice. At the full-functioning function of the 2021 National Youth Parliament Festival, the Prime Minister stressed that it was Swami Vivekananda who recognised confident, clear-hearted, fearless and courageous youth as the main force of the nation. The Prime Minister presented the mantras of Swami Vivekananda for youth-for physical fitness ‘Muscles of Iron and Nerves of Steel’, for personality development ‘Believe in Yourself’, and for leadership and teamwork ‘Believe in All’.

Taking forward Swami’s contribution in developing individuals and institutions, the government has taken several initiatives to harness the Yuva Shakti of the country. A few are listed below:

National Youth Parliament Festivals

The objective of National Youth Parliament Festival is to hear the voice of youth between 16 and 25 years of age, who will join various careers in coming years, including public services. National Youth Parliament Festival (NYPP) is based on the idea given by the Prime Minister, Narendra Modi, to “Kii Baat Address” on 31st December 2017. Taking inspiration from the idea of the Prime Minister, the first NYPP 2019 was organised from 12 to 17 January 2019 at District, State & National level with the theme “Be the voice of New India and Find solutions and Contribute to Policy.”

Olympic Podium Scheme (TOPS)

In order to improve India’s performance at Olympics and Paralympics, the Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports (MYAS) launched the National Olympic Podium Scheme (TOPS) in September 2014. It is a flagship program of the Ministry which is an attempt to give wide assistance to India’s top athletes and add a premium to the preparations so that they can make their mark in the Olympics. The idea of the Scheme is to also keep an eye on the future and fund a Development Group of Athletes who are medal prospects, for the Olympic Games in Paris in 2024 and Los Angeles Games in 2028.

Supports under TOPS include foreign training, international competition opportunities, and coaching camp.

National Education Policy 2020

The National Education Policy 2020 provides flexible and innovative learning formats to the students. The policy aims to create better educational opportunities by prioritizing aspirations, skills, understanding and choice of the youth. ‘We aim to make education accessible to the country, the absence of which often compels the youth to look towards foreign education’, the Prime Minister said.

He underlined better education and entrepreneurial opportunities being made available to the youth of the country.

National Youth Festival

Organised since 1995, by the Department of Youth Affairs. The objective is to bring youth of the country together to showcase their talents and provide them an arena, by creating a mini-India, where youth interact in formal and informal settings and exchange their social and cultural uniqueness. It is also to promote national integration spirit of communal harmony, brotherhood, courage and adventure.

The basic aim of Krrupani is to propagate the spirit, essence and concept of Ek Bharat Shreshth Bharat with the partnership of youth and the masses of India. The National Youth Festival is celebrated every year from 12th to 16th January.

Prahad Mantri Kaushal Vikas Yojana (PMKVY)

The scheme was launched in 2015 to encourage and promote skill development in the country by providing free short duration skill training and incentivizing this by providing monetary rewards to youth for skill certification. The objective of this Skill Certification Scheme is to enable a large number of Indian youth to take up industry-relevant skill training that will help them in securing a better livelihood. The training is provided under the National Skills Qualification Framework (NSQF) with Soft Skills, Entrepreneurship, Financial and Digital Literacy, as part of the curriculum. PMKVY envisages to encourage training in special areas and premises of Government bodies, corporates/industry bodies and training in special job roles not under defined the available Qualification Packs (QPs) under the National Occupational Standards (NOS).

YUVAYA- Prime Minister’s Scheme for Mentoring Young Authors

YUVAYA is an Author Mentorship program launched by the Prime Minister in May 2021 to train young and budding authors (below 30 years of age) in order to promote reading, writing and book culture in the country, and project India and Indian writings globally. YUVAYA is part of India’s 15 Projects (Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav) to bring to the fore the perspectives of the younger generation of writers on themes like Unsampled Heroes, Freedom Fighters, Unknown and Forgotten Places and their role in National Movement, and other related themes in an innovative and creative manner. This scheme will thus help to develop a stream of writers who can write on a spectrum of subjects to promote Indian heritage, culture and knowledge system. The books prepared under this scheme will be published by National Book Trust, India; and will also be translated into other Indian languages ensuring the exchange of culture and literature. YUVAYA will go a long way in laying the foundation of the future leaders of the creative world.

ENGAGING THE INDIAN DIASPORA

In 2003, the Rajya Sabha in December 2003. In 2004, by an amendment to the Citizenship Act, the act of Overseas Citizenship of India (OCI) was made available to PIOs in 18 specified countries. An Overseas Citizen of India is not entitled to the right conferred on a citizen of India and will not have the right to equality of opportunity in matters of public employment and will not be a member of Parliament or of a State legislature. An Overseas Citizen of India is also not entitled to agricultural land or plantation. Nevertheless it grants a life-long citizenship status and is a kind of psychological incentive for people to relate themselves with India.

Voting Rights
The issue of granting voting rights to the Non-Resident Indians particularly from the Gulf region had engaged the attention of Parliament, the media and the judiciary for quite some time. It was against this background that with the objective of giving Voting Rights to the Non-Resident Indians, the Representation of the People (Amendment) Bill 2006 was introduced in the Rajya Sabha on 17 February, 2006. The Government was of the view that conferring such rights would enable them to participate in the democratic process of elections in the country and would also boost their involvement in the nation building. Accordingly, having considered all aspects of their demand, the government proposed to make provision through legislation to enable Indian citizens, absenting from their place of ordinary residence in India owing to their employment, education or otherwise outside India, to get their names registered in the electoral rolls of the concerned constituency of their place of ordinary residence in India and cast their votes in elections to the Lok Sabha and to the State Legislatures in case they happen to be in their constituency at the time of polls.

The Bill was passed by both the Houses of Parliament and assented to by the President. The now the Non-Resident Indians have started voting in elections in India. However, they are required to be present in the country at the time of voting. There is, however, a demand for postal voting, a privilege enjoyed by defence personnel and diplomats. Realizing the seriousness of the issue the Supreme Court on a judgment on a petition from allowing NRIs to vote through postal ballot or Internet for the 2014 Lok Sabha elections saying this might open a ‘Pandora’s box’ while the electoral process was on.

Foreign Remittance by Indian Diaspora
Foreign remittance sent by the expatriate skilled and semi-skilled workers in the Gulf and elsewhere in the world has been a steady source of foreign exchange earnings for India. According to the World Bank, India received Rs. 83 billion from abroad in 2020, despite the pandemic, it was highest since 1980. In comparison, China received $59.5 billion in remittances in 2020, as against $68.3 billion the previous year. Yet another important aspect of the inflow of money from the Non-Resident Indians is that the NRIs have emerged as the largest overseas lender to India surpassing traditional sources such as multilateral and bilateral foreign agencies. Throughout the 1990s and early part of this millennium, multilateral organisations such as the World Bank agencies formed a major chunk of India’s outstanding external debt. Since then, however, NRI deposits in India have grown manifold and it now contributes significantly to easing of country’s external debt.

Over the last few years, India has been taking a number of initiatives to attract Indian research scientists studying abroad to relocate them in premier scientific and technological institutions. A flagship scheme in this regard is the Ramalingaswami Re-Entry Fellowship offered by the Department of Biotechnology under the Ministry of Science & Technology, Government of India. The scheme is conceptualized with the aim of attracting highly skilled researchers (Indian nationals) working overseas in various cutting edge disciplines of biotechnology such as agriculture, health sciences, bio-engineering, energy, environment, bioinformatics and other related areas. This is a senior fellowship programme, and scholars are considered to be equivalent to the level of Scientists-D. They are entitled to take up teaching and research assignments and supervising doctoral and MS students. A large number of such scientists are absorbed in the institutes where they do their research. The government is now trying to increase both the emoluments and research grants under the fellowships so as to become more attractive. The Pravasi Bhartiya Samman award is the highest honour conferred on Non-Resident Indians, Persons of Indian Origin; or an organization or institution run by NRI or PIO which have made notable contributions for engaging the diaspora. The Government of India has always evacuated the Indian Diaspora in distress situations abroad including during the COVID-19 period. The Indian missions abroad also comes to the rescue of Indians in distress conditions. The former External Affairs Minister Smt. Sushma Swaraj earned laurels from trapped Indian diaspora in distress through Twitter.

India has moved a long way from benign neglect to proactive engagement with regard to its diaspora. The diaspora in return have also responded mindfully. There was a time when Indians migrated abroad for greener pasture and now there is a process of reverse migration and yearning on their part to engage with the mother country to pay back their debt of gratitude.

Smart Cities Mission

Sameera Saurabh

Smart Cities Mission was launched by the Prime Minister on 25 June 2015 with the objective to promote cities which provide core infrastructure and public services that sustain life and growth through the application of ‘smart solutions’.

The Mission focuses on sustainable and inclusive development of cities through the application of replicable models (through Area Based Development and Pan city development approaches) which act as lighthouses to other aspiring cities.

As part of Smart City Plans, 100 Smart Cities have proposed to execute a total of 5,151 projects worth Rs. 20,051 crores in 5 years from their respective dates of selection. Special Purpose Vehicles (SPVs) established in 100 Smart Cities support implementation of Smart City Projects. 100 cities were selected to be developed as Smart Cities through a two-stage National competition.

The Mission is operated as a Centrally Sponsored Scheme. Central Government will give financial support to the extent of Rs. 48,000 crores over 5 years i.e. on an average Rs. 100 crore per city per year. An equal amount on a matching basis is to be provided by the State/ULB.

Additional resources are to be raised through convergence, from UBUs’ own funds, grants under Finance Commission, infra-developing schemes such as Municipal Bonds, other government programs and borrowings. Emphasis has been given on the participation of private sector through Public Private Partnerships (PPP). Citizens’ aspirations are captured in the Smart City Proposals (SCPs) prepared by the selected cities. Aggregated at the central level, Smart City Proposals contained more than 5,000 projects worth over Rs. 2,00,000 crores, of which around 45 percent are to be funded through Mission grants, 21 percent through convergence, 21 percent through PPP and rest from other sources. Mission has a two-pronged strategy consisting of Pan-City and Area-Based development projects.

Smart Cities address issues across these broad pillars: Livability, Economic-ability and Sustainability. Major issues highlighted by citizens during the common man’s exercise of citizen engagement were urban mobility, affordable housing, water and used-water management, sanitation, solid waste management, health, security, education, and energy security. These issues relate to livelihood, economic growth and employment. The power of cities to drive economic growth has been well-recognized, more so for better investment climate, jobs as per talent, investments, innovation, reduced levels of unemployment are other aspirations expressed by citizens. These together represent the economic-ability pillar. Climate change, conservation of natural resources and sustainable development concerns one and all. Sustainable development is a state of dynamic equilibrium wherein everyday actions on technology, infrastructure, processes, investments are taken in a manner which balances both present and future concerns of society. Smart Cities promote sustainability, the third pillar.

Current Implementation Status

Overall progress of the Mission as on 10 December 2021 shows great momentum in execution. Of the total committed investments of Rs. 20,051 crores as per approved Smart Cities Plans as on 10 December 2021, 6,499 projects worth Rs. 16,843 crores (80%) have been tendered; of these 5,873 projects worth Rs. 16,774 crores (77%) are under implementation. Out of these, 3,184 projects worth Rs. 53,485 crores (26%) are already completed.

Over the last three years, the progress of implementation has significantly picked up and there projects and 438 projects are nearing completion with investments worth over Rs. 20,000 crores.

- Recognising the need for collaborations/partnerships with private sector to bring efficiencies 140 PPP projects have been completed and 161 projects under progress with investments worth Rs. 26,000 crore approximately.

- With focus on public spaces like riverfronts, parks and playgrounds, tourism destinations, 79 vibrant urban space

SCM Activities During AKAM

To commemorate the 75th year of India’s Independence being celebrated as Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav (AKAM), during 15th August, 2021 to 27th September till 3rd October 2021, there planned numerous events across States and cities including 100 Smart Cities.

Under the Smart Cities Mission, following three activities were taken up in 100 Smart Cities as part of AKAM plans:

• 22+Citizens 75 Hours Placemaking Marathon - The Smart Cities Mission encouraged citizens to reclaim at least one public space in their city and transform it within 75 hours. 32 cities participated hosting public events and programming the transformed spaces in a way in which celebrates our azadi, while also celebrating our cities. 22+ Cities, transformed 50+public spaces in 75 hours. This equated to about 1 lakh square meters of public spaces in cities. The projects focused on building cities for the people, with the people, to make cities safer for walking & cycling. To make neighbourhood parks and public amenities like anganwadis and health centers more stimulating for young children to aid their physical and cognitive development. To cater to the needs of caregivers especially pregnant and lactating mothers, and to ensure that citizens have access to hygiene in public spaces. These were done in light quick and cheap trials. So that these ideas can be tested and improved upon before more permanent and cost-intensive projects are undertaken at scale. The details of the initiative can be accessed from https://smart.net.niu.a/place-making-marathon.

• Freedom Walk/Run Cycling Campaign - Through this campaign, over 220 events encouraging citizens to walk, cycle or run were held across the 100 participating cities between 1st to 3rd October 2021. There were 40 events held to empower women to walk & cycle, 25 events to identify junior walk & bicycle champions, 115 events to bring more pedestrians and cyclists on the street and 15 temporary interventions were tested to make walking and cycling safe and fun.

• Freedom Through Technology: the Smart Cities Mission encouraged the cities to host an event in their ICC/ ICT centers between 29th Sept to 3rd Oct 2021 showcasing successful technological ICT interventions to the citizens focusing on how cities are achieving technology enabled freedom. 75 cities together engaged more than 7500 citizens showcasing their ICC capabilities with 200+ use cases which were well received by citizens and other city stakeholders. The events focused on the readiness of the cities to mitigate challenges across nine themes viz. Freedom from Crime, Freedom from Traffic, Freedom from Waste, Freedom from Water scarcity, Freedom from Queues, Freedom from Unitee Fom Hoom Gas (GHGs), Freedom from Pollution, Freedom from Disease and Freedom from Inefficiency. (Editor, Advertisements) or 7 saying that they want to become an IAS officer or an astronaut etc. To take a particular direction in the matter of career, one needs understanding of oneself as well as the surroundings around you which may not be there at such a young age. Also in many cases very early decision about a career choice is mostly taken on the basis of glamour attached to a career and not on the basis of in-depth knowledge about that particular career. The earliest time to give a serious thought to one’s future career can be said to when the student is enrolled in Senior Secondary level. However, decision with regard to a career goal has to be taken with the understanding of what the career entails and how it will shape your life and future.

The Changing Scenario

When we became independent our economy in a way was divided into public and private, but the country followed a model which was more oriented towards a closed than an open economy. We continued with this system for about four decades till we moved to an era of liberalization which can be considered a watershed in the economic development of most of the areas of business and industry in which only government used to operate were opened for private enterprises. With a liberal economy, Direct Investment norms were eased, licensing and permit policies were relaxed and thus came a time when private sector began to spread its wings in the areas like aviation, banking, steel, tourism, education, healthcare etc. creating new employment opportunities. Side by side the Information, Communication and Technology (ICT) revolution was taking place in which India actively participated. So many new jobs came up in the country itself, we also became an outsourcing hub for global companies and many of our young people got information about any career and to prepare for a particular career. Resources are available in abundance.

Approaches to Decide a Career Goal

People have different preferences and interests in their choice of career and also in other aspects of their lives. In no case a particular career should be identified for its glamour or any other superficial aspect. People should also consider difficulties and challenges that come with it. Whatever we decide, we need to be realistic so that we don’t have to regret at a later stage.

Also a career doesn’t necessarily mean being employee of some company or organization. A full-fledged time career can also be made in music, photography, sports etc. Here one also has the option to choose another hobby, which can be a better career. Starting your own venture is also a career path.

There are two distinct approaches through which we may decide which route we want to take. One can look at various options available and then try to choose a career that suits you. Another approach is to understand your interests and choose a field which matches this interest.

To decide your career goal it’ll be better if you adopt step by step process. We all have talent and potential. Behavioural scientists say that a career which gives you an opportunity to use your talents in the areas which your potential is going to be more fulfilling and satisfying. Let’s not forget that out of 24 hours of a day cycle, a major portion will be spent on work. If this time is not enjoyable it may be a reason for dissatisfaction and may lead to frustration which is not good for your physical and mental health. Look around and you can see people who have everything but they are not happy with their work life or don’t feel fulfilled. So it’s an important to be careful in our choices.

The scientific say prudential exercise for setting career goals should begin with self-analysis followed by self-assessment. Under self-analysis you need to identify your natural talents and whether these can be useful in a particular career. One can also at this stage of your life which one would like to acquire to get close to a career of interest. You have to ask questions like – what keeps me happy, what work we’ll enjoy most etc. Under self-assessment you have to understand your personality and how your career goals can be matched with it. Some aspects of our personality can be counted as our strengths. We need to work on these strengths to our advantage. When it comes to weaknesses, we’re to make sure that we get rid of this. This can’t be done in a single day but any incremental improvement you may bring big changes.

If you’re clear about your interests and want a career associated with your interest then you come one step ahead. You may create a list of the possible areas of work associated with interest and then evaluate each of these before taking a decision. For example what type of work does my human behavior may go for psychology or behavioural science. Willingness to learn the equations of supply and demand in income distribution etc. should take you to economics. If interested in computers, courses like Bachelor/Master of Computer Applications, B.E / B.Tech in Computer Engineering, B.Sc./M.Sc. in Computer Science can be pursued. If you’re fascinated by Science, you will have to further decide which branch of Science is closure to your heart and mind as plenty of choices like Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Biotechnology, Biochemistry, Geology, Earth Science etc. are available. Whether you want to become a generalist or choose some specialized or super specialized area is also a choice.

Explore and Discuss with Others

It is always better to discuss your ideas with well-wishers who may be your family members, relatives, teachers, friends or neighbours. The fear of disappointment shouldn’t deter you to share your thoughts. While you discuss your career goals with others, you may be exposed to perspectives which never crossed in your mind.

Open discussion may also help you to keep your biases away, if there are any. We don’t need to copy others. Also try to find someone from the line which you are willing to choose, to get some firsthand information about their work and work life. For example if you want to become a software engineer, a person already doing this job may provide you valuable inputs which will help to you to better decision making. Also explore inputs available in career guides, advertisements, weblogs etc. There are videos posted on social media which discuss career options. Broader areas of careers are known to most of us, but exploring lesser known, underappreciated careers (like Bachelor of Design) may bring us closer to what we want to do.

Make Best Use of Resources

Many of us always think about our lack of resources and conclude that without these resources it’s impossible to achieve our career goals. Let this be explained with an example. A student dreams of studying at IIT which is among most sought after destinations for many to get a degree in Engineering. However this student doesn’t pursue this idea further thinking that it is impossible to qualify in IIT entrance examination without coaching which he or her family can’t afford due to financial reasons. Perhaps this student doesn’t know that nearly one third of the students admit to IIT qualify without joining any coaching classes. At the same time there are thousands of students who even after spending a huge amount on coaching don’t qualify. If you go through the profile of successful candidates in Civil Services Examination you’ll find that many of them are from rural background who didn’t get exposure and study at prestigious colleges or universities. Under this, don’t consider a factor like your family’s social status. According to Abdul Kalam’s quote that aspirations are greater than resources, holds much value here. A large number of people whom we consider successful and who are holding prestigious positions are from humble backgrounds. To achieve your goal through struggle to reach where they are today.

Of course higher studies have become costlier over the years, but still many of our established, prestigious universities charge modest fee. Those with limited financial resources may consider these.

Be Forward Looking

You’ll also do good to remember that for most of you your first career is not going to be your last career. This is particularly true for those who will be working in private sector where switching jobs is much more common. There’s no harm in looking for better opportunities, however here also one needs to tread cautiously to make sure that your move proves to be a good decision. Keep an eye over growth opportunities in the coming years to make most of these.

Only a Degree is Not Sufficient

For a corporate career or a position in government there are prescribed qualifications but only a degree is not sufficient to get a nice role or position. That is why selection processes comprising of one or more of written test, group discussion, interview etc. are conducted to achieve your career goal you have to clear all of these. Your preparation should be impeccable. To accomplish your career goal you should have clear understanding of the path to reach that goal.
